Know Your Cosmic Blueprint!

“Why am I here?” Do you ever get the feeling you’re meant for so much more, but don’t know what it is? Those questions lived in me too, and for decades I searched for answers. I was led to the Ancient Science of Astrology and, as I learned the language of its symbols and how to practice this sacred art, the answers began to unfold – and now I can help you find your answers too.

Imagine… when you were born… that exquisite moment when the blueprint of your life was engraved into your astrological birthchart. You are purposefully made, one-of-a-kind; your birthchart will never be repeated – it tells the story of the person you are born to be and the life you are truly meant to live.

Astrology in and of itself is not magic; by itself it solves nothing, it simply holds a mirror to the lessons of life. Yet by gazing at that reflection, we can begin to see the deeper purpose of those lessons and the patterns behind them – and, with wisdom and courage, life’s difficulties can soften. This is the promise of Knowing Your Stars through evolutionary astrology … this is the promise being offered to you.

Know Your Why

You are here to fill a definite cosmic need. It's uniquely yours, and ONLY YOU can express it in the way your soul is designed. If it goes unrealized, a subtle void is left in humanity – the people you were meant to touch feel the absence of the energy and alignment you came to offer, and that missing note ripples through the Universe. Take a moment to feel the magnitude of what you carry. Imagine how beautifully our world would unfold if everyone lived their cosmic why.

When you know why you are here, you grow more skillful at making life choices and naturally lean toward positive, life-giving outcomes. Ultimately, you create the life you were meant to live… you feel ignited, carried forward by a powerful inner confidence that awakens when you Know Your Stars®.

Know Your Triggers

Life is full of challenges that can stretch you to your limits. Often the same conditions, people and situations reappear and seem to echo your fears of more difficult times ahead. Do you ever wonder why the same “stuff” keeps happening? No matter how hard you try or what you do, life isn’t getting easier, and you wonder how much more you can take!

Imagine knowing what makes you tick. When you Know Your Stars®, you meet your psyche and personality and see yourself with a brave, honest clarity. The picture sharpens; you can lovingly observe your deepest struggles, your emotional triggers, and the motivations behind your choices, so your decisions evolve, and life begins to flow with more ease.

Know Your Karma

Everyone faces disappointments; everyone has dreams that don't come true. Life is intricate, full of loose ends and contradictions, yet there truly is "a reason for everything" – everything in your birthchart is karmic and points toward your dharma, your life purpose – the deeper why of your journey. We each find ourselves in a "karmic predicament," invited to grow into who we are meant to be.

Every configuration in your birthchart represents a kind of life challenge, and the challenge can be understood most deeply when viewed through the lens of the karma and dharma it carries. Your birthchart reveals your karma and your dharma, and when you Know Your Karma, you are able to rise up and embrace its higher potential, heal the karmic wound, and expand into new possibilities.

Know Your Choices

Life is riddled with information overload, too much happening; decisions, decisions, decisions… so many choices… it's unanimous, wrong moves create more trouble, who needs more of that? A wise person (Ma) once told me "Your life is what you make it!", yikes… I've learned it's all true! But what if you had guidance in knowing what choices to make and which way to go?

Knowing your Stars empowers you with the life-shaping power of conscious choice. You are better equipped to recognize the signs of challenging karmic patterns. You become an active decision maker, making choices that intercept life's drama and resolve life's challenges.

Know Your Story

We have all heard the end-of-life stories, when many look back with regrets at how quickly it went by. Yes, this is a bleak vision, but we must acknowledge how quickly time goes by. Your birthchart expresses your pure potentiality and reveals what you can be, and what you are meant to be. Your story is unique to you!

If you live the message of your birthchart… if you get it right… you will be vital down to the core and you will look back at the end of your days, in a state of radiance… you've lived the life you were born to live. When you Know Your Stars®, you know the message of your story and radiance is a possibility.
